4 Chapter 1. Graphical modeling using L-systems Figure 1.3: Example of a derivation in a DOL-system by a using production  $b \hat{=} a$ . In the second step a is replaced by ab using production  $a \hat{=} ab$ . The word ab consists of two letters, both of which are simultaneously replaced in the next derivation step. Thus, a is replaced by ab, b is replaced by a, and the string aba results.

This article drills down into old code generation and compares its relationship to DSLs and modelling and establishes the similarities between all three. Using this common basis, it explains the reason behind the recent fashion for XML with everything and the de-facto standard approach to defining languages in XML. Finally, it describes the first steps in code generation.
